Lyrics by Tracy Spring

On a summer day, a sea of green
In the lushest garden I've ever seen
...magnolia, lemon tree
Saxifrage, day lily
Every shape and size, in every hue
Big and small, she loved them, old and new
Every one unique, and precious too
Jasmine...geranium...
There is room for all under her sun
There is beauty in each one
In Velzoe's garden

Bridge:

Swelling of springtime, bursting to summer
Tenderly, nurturing... harvest...and then winter's rest

So many years she watched her garden grow
Old friends and seasons come and go
...rosemary, peony
Trumpet vine, persimmons tree
How she cherished each and every bloom
Bouquets of them would fill her room
Every one unique and precious too
Old friends...and new...
Every shape and scent, breed and hue
How she loved each one that grew!
...in Velzoe's garden

[Instrumental break] ...Creatures great and small
Together in harmony, a symphony!
...in Velzoe's garden

How she cherished each and every bloom
Bouquets of us would fill her room
Every one unique and precious too
Old friends...and new...
Every shape and scent, breed and hue
How she loved each one of you
...in Velzoe's garden

She will always be here, in your heart
For we were part
...of Velzoe's garden
